THE EPISCOPAL CHURCH. PROCEEDINGS OF THE UENERAL CONFENTION.

NTERESTING DISCUSSION ON THE CHURCH OF ENGLAND-THE CHURCH CONGRESS AT LAMBETH-ADMISSION OF AN INDIAN DELEGATE-NEW DIOCESE IN OHIO-THE EVANGELIZATION SOCIETY.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.-The general convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church was resumed to-day with religious services. Mr. Wells offered Niebrara that from the missionary jurisdiction of Niebrara Rev. Lovel D. Harmon had been appointed clerical delegate and Henry Wandixam, full-blooded Dakota Indian, as lay delegate to the convention.

Mr. Stevenson, of Kentucky, said it was a day to be remembered when a red Indian would be introduced as a delegate to the convention. It was a blessed thought, that though we had driven the Indians back and taken their lands, the Protestant Episcopal Church was an active agent in bringing them to Christ. The speaker was interrupted by applause, which was promptly rebuked by the chairman. Mr. Stevenson continued, that if the delegates knew with what joy was sent as a delegate to this convention, the brethren would join with him in his prayers of thanksgiving.

Hon. Samuel T. Ruggles, of New York, said it was to him a source of joy to be present to wel-come his Indian brothers. The gross indignities offered by this nation to these Indians had been a subject of reproach to them throughout the entire world. He hoped the time would come when they would wipe out this stain and blot, and he thought they were now taking the most effective method of accomplishing it.

The Indian deputy was then admitted to the floor of the House, and said he never thought he would be a delegate to this body, but was very thankful for the favor shown him. His tribe was very poor, and never thought they would be lifted up and made members of this Church. Although weak, they felt lifted up, and had strength infused into them by their recognition by this body. When he returned to his friends he would tell them of his reception, and they would be very glad. His tribe had been involved in darkness, but, thanks .to the Church, now saw the

NEW DIOCESE IN OHIO. A message from the House of Bishops informed the House of Deputies of that House, clerical and lay delegates concurring, that they had adopted resolutions consenting to and ratifying the forma-tion of a new diocese in Ohio. Another message was read ratifying the formation of the new dio-

THE SITUAL AND RUBBIC. A resolution was offered by Rev. Mr. Harris, of Louisiana, asking that the committee on canons be requested to make inquiries and report as to whether any canons prescribing what shall or shall not be done in the ritual code had been enacted by this convention without violation of article 8 of the constitution. Referred to the commit-A memorial was presented from Massachusetts, requesting the convention to make some altera-tions to the rubric for the baptism of infants, and was referred to the committee on canons. THE ENGLISH CHURCH CONGRESS. Rev. Dr. Schenck offered a resolution express ing the cordial approbation of this body at the invitation of the English Congress to be present at the second session at Lambeth, and that it be accepted. No action was taken upon the report, as the hour for taking up the regular business calendar had arrived, the chairman announcing that the order of business was the consecration of laid over until Wednesday. BOARD OF MISSIONS. The following gentlemen were elected as the : Rev. Dr. Alexander B Wassachusetts: Geo.C. McWhorter, Central New York: Rev. John Scarborough, Pennsylvania; Wm. Cornwall, Kentucky: Rev. Dr. Locke, Illinois, and Wm. Welsh, Pennsylvania.

THE ENGLISH CHURCH. The resolutions offered by Rev. Dr. Schenck were then taken up to be seted upon, and Rev. Mr. Meade, of Connecticut, opposed their passage in a spirited speech, exhibiting great animosity towards the English Church, saying they were asked to consent to let the bishops act in this farce, for it is nothing else. He claimed that the Church of England had been always hostile to Church, but could only be regarded as a kind of stepmother. They ought to regard the Church of Scotland in closer relationship than the Church of England.

Rev. Dr. Schenck replied in support of his moon, and argued that the meeting of the Church congress in England was not for the propagation of any dogma or theory, but only for communion, like this body here, for the mutual interests of the Church. He thought they were making too nuch of a matter which was only one of formality

Rev. Dr. Morton, of Virginia, and Rev. Dr. Vinton, of Massachusetts, also spoke on the same subject. The latter said that the aim of this congress meeting at Lambeth was to organize a grand synod of all the English-speaking Church, the Archbishop of Canterbury to be the sole recognized head-in other words, to be the great ganic entity. He thought this question was not up here for discussion at any length, but only to determine whether this body should recommend to the House of Bishops to accept the invitation A recess was then taken.

After recess Hon, Samuel B. Ruggles, of New York, in speaking on the resolution offered by Mr. Sehenck, said he was opposed to the Church with which he was connected as a layman yield-ing one jot of her independence, and he would go to the last extremity to prevent any alteration But at the same time he thought the Church Congress at Lambeth would not conflict or interfere with the interests of the American Church, and he was therefore in favor of the invitation being accepted. He was not afraid of their coming together and having a friendly talk and an intercommunion of thought. With regard to changes in the relations between churches, he was now and ever would be strongly opposed. He rould propose a modification of the resolution favoring co-operation, and not conjunction, be

Rev. Dr. Paret, of Central Pennsylvania, offered an amendment to Dr. Schenea's motion, suggesting that the House of Deputies, having received from the Bishop of Lychfield an intimation that an invitation to attend the Church Congress at Lambeth would be extended, the whole matter be allowed to lay over to await definite informa-tion from the House of Bishops upon the sub-

Roy, Dr. Leeds thought the American Church being national, should endeavor to preserve its nationality.

A motion was made by the delegation from New Jersey to lay the entire subject on the table, which involved the calling of the roll. The motion was lost-75 to 2. The question on the adoption of the amendment offered by Rev. Dr. Paret was put, and the discussion was opened anew. A delegate from Long Island raised the point that as yet they knew nothing about the invitation. If it was an invitation for an inter-communion, he saw no reason why it should not take place. If it was a convening, he would like to know the meaning of the word "convene;" and if it was a synod, he would object to the invitation more about it before their consent would be given Rev. Dr. Schenck replied to these remarks at some length, urging that the amendment did not convey such a clear and distinct meaning as the original resolution. Rev. Benjamin Rogers, of Texas, offered the following as a substitute for the whole matter: Resolved. That all exchanges of friendly greeting, and all evidences of communion of spirit in the bonds of peace between the Church of England and the Church of America, are especially welcome to this body.

Resolved, That the foregoing resolution be communicated to the House of Hishops. The substitute was carried by 108 year to 95 The emended resolution was then carried, after which the convention adjourned. EVANGELIZATION SOCIETY. A PREMATURE WIDOW. The total of anthracite marketed for the week ending on the 3d instant amounted to 462,914 tons, and for the coal year 13,913,413 tons, against 15, 133,442 tons to corresponding time last year, being a decrease of 1,220,129 tons. The bituminous tonnage for the week is 75,285 tons, and for the year 2,521,384 tons, against 2,452,485 tons to same time last year, giving a total of all kinds for the week of 538,199 tons, and for the year of 16,434,777 tons, against 17,585,807 tons to the same time last year, being a decrease of 1,151,130 tons. At Port Richnond for the week ending the 10th instant the receipts of coal were 74,000 tons, the shipments 50,000 tons, leaving 80,000 tons on hand." The coal and coke tounage of the Pennsylvania ratiroad last week was 134,722 tons, and for the year 2,330,ore. Of anthracite and bituminous there were 1.978,240 tons, and of coke 352,839 tons. This includes the tonnage of coal both east and west.

The coal production marketed the past week is something larger, and the tonnage of the Read-ing railroad the largest of any week so far this year. Still the tonnage for the year is over a year. Still the tonnage for the year is ever a million behind that of last year to the same time. Of this loss 489,108 tons is by the Reading railroad; 456,981 by the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western; 468,710 by the Delaware, Lackawanna and Hestern; 468,710 by the Ghaware and Hudson; 156,628 by the Lehigh Valley; 147,440 by the Central, of New Jersey; 118,513 by the Huntingdon and Hroad Top: 52,519 by the Schuyikili Navigation, and 63,307 by the Shamokin. The Chesapeake and Ohio canal shows an increase of 55,533 tons; Clearfield, Penn., 45,661; the Pennsylvania Coal Company, 46,256, and the Pennsylvania and New York railroad, 2,018 tons. Notwithstanding the coal trade is thus over a million of tons behind what it was at this time last year, it is, nevertheless, finshelally in a better condition than any other pursuit involving a like amount of capital other pursuit involving a like amount of capital and industry, and this, it is said, is magrest measure due to that control of the business which has kept production within the limits of the market—always a full supply without any very large overstock. Had the market early in the season been of the season been to the control of the season been always a full supply without any very large overstock. always that supply window any very large over stock. Had the market early in the conson been left entirely to itself, each operator furnishing the largest possible amount of coal, thus provoking the wildest competition, it is quite manifest that the coal trade would now be in less flourishing condition than it is. It is very probable that the tonnage now short will not be recovered this year, but the trade is likely to pass into the next sea-son unertypied, with ability to then make up the loss now sustained, and probably with it a good norties of the annual average increase. The past history of the coal trade, in a series of years, shows an annual merease in production of ten par cent. although on more than one occasion the tonnage has falled in this ten per cent. increase, and, as now, even to have fallen below that of the preceding year, yet fix a period of ten years the average ten per cent, has been maintained. There is no reason to doubt that it will be so now and hereafter.—Patiadeiphia Ledger.

the Republicans do not recognize the action of the election will be for a Territorial Delegate.

The candidates are numerous: Jefferson P. Kidder. Republican; M. K. Armstrong. Democrat; E. W. Miller, Democrat; William A. Burleigh, Opposition. Kidder was formerly Lieutenant Governor of Vormont. There has been a Republican majority in the Territory for several years, and, in view of the number of opposition candidates, it is quite probable that Kidder will be elected.

VIRGINIA.

THE FIGHT AGAINST MR. PLATT. [Correspondence of the National Republican.]

NORFOLK, Oct. 10, 1874. The most hotly-contested district in the count is unquestionably this Second Virginia. The Re-publican majority last year in the contest between Kemper and Hughes was 1,800; the Democrats been laying plans ever since to overcome that majority in the Congressional election this year. They did not expect to have Mr. Platt to to private life, and they felt confident of their ability to defeat any other candidate. Mr. Platt had fully determined to decline a nom-ination, and on his return from Washington at the close of the last session of Congress he at the close of the last session of Congress he anneunced that determination to his friends. The Republicans of this section were fully aware of the difficulties before them and the desparate struggle that would be made to wrest the most important district in Virginia from their posses-sion.

MR. PLATT'S POPULABITY. MR. Platt would accept the nomination there would be no rival in the party who would think of opposing him in an effort to obtain it. If he persisted in the refusal to permit his name to be used there would be a great contention for the nomination, which the number of aspirant would complicate; and the consequent struggle would demoralise and weaken the party. Under these circumstances Mr. Platt was informed that he must reconsider his determination.

The large white vote he always commands was absolutely necessary to success, and it was feared that with any one else as a candidate it would be lost. He was told that having been elected three times, when he desired to be, the party had a right to demand his services when it really needed them, and that he ought not to decline to serve a party that had been so fatthful to him, even though to meet their wishes he was compelled to very unwillingly consented to the use of his name, and was nominated unanimously and by acclamation by the largest and most respectable convention ever held by the Republican party in this district.

Every county and city was fully represented in the body, and out of sixty delegates only nine were men holding any office. THE DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE.

THE DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE.

The Democrats were greatly disappointed at finding Mr. Platt again in the field; but determined to put up their strongest man, and make a desperate fight for the prize. They have so-lected as their candidate, Hon. John Goode, ir., of this sity, a lawyer of character and influence; a fine orator, formerly a member of the Confederate Congress, and without doubt the strongest man they could have nominated.

The campaign opened the first of September, and has been most vigorously conducted by both parties. Platt and Goode are on the stump every day; sometimes meeting in joint discussion, at other times keeping appointments at separate points. The whole strength of the Democratic party of the State is being concentrated upon this district. Speakers and money are being poured in from all sections. Their papers are attacking Platt with a vindletive ferceity only paralleled by the New York Sua in its opposition to Grant in the last Presidential election.

Their cry is

"ANYTHING TO BEAT PLATE." and they have assistance, first in the Independent Republican candidate, Norton, a negro who re-sides in the county of York, where he has consid-erable strength. He appeals to the passions and prejudices of race and color, and opposes Platt on the ground of his (Pfatt's) opposition to the mixed school clause of the civil rights bill.

Senator John A. J. Lawis and his son-in-law.". J. Ambler Smith, are also working in every possible way for the defeat of Platt; and Colonel John S. Mosby is doing the same thing—the two former from pure cassedness and envy of Platt's success and influence in the State and in Congress, and the latter because he looks with great longing upon the Federal offices in this district, and thinks he might control them and all the State if Platt was only out of the way. But they combined have a formidable foe to fight. Platt is an able and indefatigable worker; his pluck, endurance and perseverance are indomitable. He is a most persuasive and popular stump speaker, and a full match for Goode in that respect.

His personal character is above reproach, and as a business man he has the entire respect and confidence of all who know him. His political friends are enthusiastically devoted to him, and there is no man in the United States who possesses more personal influence in a Congressional district than he does in this. So far he has a decided advantage; and after visiting many of the counties of the district than he does in this. So far he has a decided advantage; and after visiting many of the counties of the district and reconting reliable information from those I have not visited, I am prepared to say that nothing but fraud, and fraud on a large scale, can prevent his election in November. SOME OF PLATT'S OPPONENTS on a large scale, can prevent his election in November.

Norfolk gave Kemper, the Democratic candidate for Governor last fall, 228 majority. To-day bets are freely offered, with few takers, that Platt will get a majority in this city. If he does it will be a wonderful and a flattering triumph, and one he may well be proud of.

Great indignation is expressed by Republicans at the course of Lewis and Smith. Sener is making a gallant fight in the First district, with favorable chances. Stowell will be elected in the Forth. The Third is badly muddled, and Thomas will probpbly be elected in the Fifth.

Maxwell afterwards eturning with a posse was met at the door by Mayor Wells, through whom the service was acknowledged by President Young. The marshal states upon his appearance with a posse he found the house and yard occupied by a large number of armed men. Mayor Wells says no men were present except those who happened to be in the street and were naturally attracted by remarks of trouble. He expressed regret to the marshal that the gate-keeper had made any remonstrance, which was at the time unknown to and discounenanced by Brigham Young.

The Admiral says the dispatches which were incorporated with the story have no existence, and that it is likewise untrue that he had sent in his resignation as plenipotentiary of Spain to Washington; since the cause of his leaving that office was that the Minister of Marine required his services in the navy. The Admiral concludes by saying the whole story is a network of absurd and contemptible calumnies.

McCoy, Bacon, and other aides-de-camp and Surgeon General Alexander will arrive in a few days. THE VANITY OF OUR GIRLS. I do not believe women are by nature more prone to these paltry feelings of vanity or joniousy than men. It is the fault of their education rather than of their nature. Beauty, like birth and talent, should be considered as an accidental circum-stance—a possession which should not be misused, lest it bring upon its possessor the displeasure of God. It is assured a desirable possession, for it gives a grade and a charm to all one says or does; but it would be considered as something to be thankful for, and not as investing its owner with any especial right to be vain and conceited. If it were only out of compassion, those who have the education of young girls should labor without ceasing to guard them from the baueful effects of vanity, pampered in their infancy, makes them passed up with preposterous ideas of their own importance in the circle in which they move, and also makes them incapable of sympathizing with their fellow-creatures, although they are fully persuaded that they possess a full claim to receive sympathy from everybody they know. Thus they become exacting, sensitive, miserable, and cannot find contentment or happiness in anything. Mortified vanity brings misery in its train, and will ever prove a fraitful source of un-happiness and error. So let us guard against these little foxes which dovour the fair fruit upon our vines, and teach our girls not to be puffed with vanity, but to live in harmony and peace with all their friends, without considering how much higher, brighter and fairer are that prospects than those of their companions.

Country Gentleman. GEN. GRANT'S SIMPLICITY

[Louisville Courier-Journal.] So far as personal dignity goes, Gen. Grant is the most democratic President we over had. Gen. Grant may be met at most any fashionable entertainment in Washington. He makes social or like any private gentleman might make. He drives about in a buggy without even the diguity of a tiger, and he picks up his friends on the streets and gives them a turn behind his spank-ing teams, with the lines in his own hands, in a manner that ought to please the most exacting of the unwashed.
